What Is Harassment

Workplace harassment can take many forms. It may be, but is not limited to, words, signs, offensive jokes, cartoons, pictures, posters, e-mail jokes or statements, pranks, intimidation, physical assaults or contact, or violence. Harassment is not limited to conduct which is sexual in nature. It may also take the form of other vocal activity including derogatory statements not directed to the targeted individual but taking place within their hearing. Other prohibited conduct includes written material such as notes, photographs, cartoons, articles of a harassing or offensive nature, and taking retaliatory action against an employee for discussing or making a harassment complaint.

Responsibility

All city employees, and particularly managers, have a responsibility for keeping our work environment free of harassment. Any employee, who becomes aware of an incident of harassment, whether by witnessing the incident or being told of it, must report it to their immediate supervisor or the designated management representative with whom they feel comfortable. Policy Statement on Sexual Harassment

It is the commitment of the City of Sheffield, Iowa, to provide a work environment free of sexual harassment. Therefore it is illegal and against City policy for an employee, patron, or vendor of the City to harass any employee by:

1. Making sexual advances or requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, a condition of hire or continued employment: or
2. Making submission to, or rejection of, such conduct the basis for an employment decision affecting the employee such as assignment, compensation, advancement, or career development: or
3. Creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment by engaging in such conduct.

Sexual harassment infringes upon an employee's right to a comfortable work environment and is a form of misconduct that undermines the integrity of the employment relationship. Sexual harassment refers to conduct that is offensive to an individual, that harms morale, and that interferes with the efficiency and effectiveness our efforts to serve our public. Sexual harassment includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Offensive sexual flirtations, advances or propositions
2. Verbal abuse of a sexual nature
3. Graphic or degrading verbal comments about an individual or his/her appearance
4. The display of sexually suggestive objects or pictures
5. Any offensive or abusive physical contact

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature when such conduct creates an offensive, hostile and intimidating working environment and prevents an individual from effectively performing the duties of his/her position. It also encompasses such conduct when it is made a term or condition of employment or compensation, either implicitly or explicitly and when an employment decision is based on an individual's acceptance or rejection of such conduct.

It is important to note that sexual harassment crosses age and gender boundaries and cannot be stereotyped.

Sexual harassment may exist on a continuum of behavior.

Generally, two categories of sexual harassment exist. The first, "quid pro quo", may be defined as an exchange of sexual favors for improvement in your working conditions and/or compensation. The second category, "hostile, intimidating, offensive working environment," can be described as a situation in which unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favor, or other verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature when such conduct creates an intimidating or offensive environment. Examples of a hostile, intimidating, and offensive working environment include, but are not limited to, pictures, cartoons, symbols, or apparatus found to be offensive and which exist in the workspace of an employee. This behavior does not necessarily link improved working conditions in exchange for sexual favors. It is also against the City's policy to download inappropriate pictures or materials from computer systems.

The City prohibits any employee from retaliating in any way against anyone who has raised any concern about sexual harassment or discrimination against another individual.

The City will investigate any complaint of sexual harassment and will take immediate and appropriate disciplinary action if sexual harassment has been found within the workplace.

If you believe that you have been subjected to sexual harassment either by a City employee, patron, or vendor, you should promptly submit an oral or written complaint to the Mayor or a member of the City Council. If you have reported an incident of alleged sexual harassment to the Mayor or a member of the City Council and you believe the charge has not been dealt with in an expeditious and effective manner, you should report the incident to the entire City Council.

In order to protect the interests of its employees, its citizens, and the City itself, the City will investigate every complaint of sexual harassment that is brought to its attention. Complaint investigations will be treated professionally, and all statements will be handled with as much discretion as possible. If the City determines that an employee did engage in behavior or conduct that constitutes sexual harassment, disciplinary action will be taken and may include termination.

Disciplinary Actions

This Disciplinary Actions Policy applies to all regular employees who have completed the introductory period.

This policy pertains to matters of conduct as well as the performance of duties. However, an employee who does not display satisfactory performance and accomplishment on the job may be dismissed without resorting to the steps set forth in this policy.

Under normal circumstances, managers/supervisors are expected to follow the procedure outlined below. There may be particular situations, however, in which the seriousness of the offense justifies the omission of one or more of the steps in the procedure. Likewise, there may be times when the city may decide to repeat a disciplinary step.

Discipline Procedure

Unacceptable behavior which does not lead to immediate dismissal may be dealt with in the following manner:

1. Oral Reminder
2. Written Warning
3. Decision-Making Paid or Non -Paid Leave/ Counseling Session
4. Termination

To insure that the City's business is conducted properly and efficiently, you must conform to certain standards of attendance, conduct, work performance and other work rules and regulations. When a problem in these areas does arise, your Supervisor will coach and counsel you in mutually developing an effective solution. If, however you fail to respond to counseling or coaching, or an incident occurs requiring formal discipline, the following procedures occur.

Step One: Oral Reminder

Your supervisor will meet with you to discuss the problem or violation, making sure that you understand the nature of the problem, and the expected remedy. The purpose of this conversation is to remind you of exactly what the rule or performance expectation is and also to remind you that it is your responsibility to meet the City's expectations.

You will be informed that the Oral Reminder is the first step of the discipline procedure. Your supervisor will fully document the Oral Reminder, which will remain in effect for a time period set by the supervisor. Documentation of the incident will remain in the confidential file and will not be placed in your personnel record unless another disciplinary event occurs.

Step Two: Written Warning

If your performance does not improve within a time period set by the supervisor. Your supervisor will discuss the problem with you, emphasizing the seriousness of the issue and the need for you to immediately remedy the problem. Your supervisor will advise you that you are now at the second level of disciplinary action. After the meeting your supervisor will write a memo to you summarizing the discussion and your agreement to change. This memo to be signed by both the supervisor and Employee. A copy of the memo will be placed in your personnel file.

The Written Warning will remain in effect for six (6) months.

Step Three: Decision Making Leave/Counseling Session

If your performance does not improve within a time period set by the supervisor and approved by the City Council in accordance with the severity of the violation following the Written Warning, or if you are again in violation of the City's practices, rules or standards of conduct, you will be placed on Decision-Making Leave. This Leave is the third and final step of the City of Sheffield, Iowa's disciplinary process

Decision-Making Leave is a paid, one (1) day disciplinary suspension. Employees on this Leave will spend the following day away from work deciding whether to commit to correcting the immediate problem and to conform to all of the City's practices, rules and standards of conduct, or to quit and terminate their employment with the City of Sheffield, Iowa.

If your decision following the Decision-Making Leave is to return to work and abide by the City's practices, rules and standards of conduct, your supervisor will write a letter to you explaining your commitment and the consequences of failing to meet this commitment. You will be required to sign the letter to acknowledge receipt. A copy will be placed in your personnel file.

You will be allowed to return to work with the understanding that if a positive change in behavior does not occur, or if another disciplinary problem occurs within a time period set by the supervisor and approved by the City Council in accordance with the severity of the violation, you will be terminated.

If you are unwilling to make such a commitment, you may either resign or you will be terminated.

If you commit any of the actions listed below, or any other action not specified but similarly serious, you will be suspended without pay pending an investigation of the situation. Following the investigation you may be terminated without any previous disciplinary action having been taken.

At-will appointed employees are not subject to just cause standard for discharge. The provisions of this Manual do not establish contractual rights or conditions for employment between the City and its employee.

Prior to being discharged, the City Council, will meet with the employee and inform him/her that discharge from employment is under serious consideration, and give the employee an opportunity to respond by presenting any new or additional information he/she views as relevant. Attendance

The City would like you to be ready to work at the beginning of your assigned daily work hours, and to reasonably complete your projects by the end of your assigned work hours. Please let someone know if you will be away from your work for a period of time and when you expect to return.

If you know in advance that you will need to be absent, please request this time off directly from your supervisor. If you are unable to call in yourself because of an illness, or emergency, please have someone else call for you.

Absence from work for three (3) consecutive days without notifying the City Hall or the appropriate City officials will be considered a voluntary resignation.

If you are absent because of an illness for three (3) or more successive days, your supervisor may request that you submit written documentation from your doctor stating you are able to resume normal work duties before you will be allowed to return to work.

A pattern of questionable absences or a number of absences in a period of time can be considered excessive and may be a cause for concern. In addition, excessive lateness or leaving early without letting your supervisor know will be considered a "lateness pattern" and may carry the same weight as an absence. Other factors, like the degree and reason for lateness, will be taken into consideration. Be aware that excessive absences, lateness, or leaving early may lead to disciplinary action, including possible dismissal.

It is important to return to work on time at the end of your meal period.

Note: Information on the types of leaves offered and their qualification criteria are included in the "Leaves" section of this Employee Manual.

Performances and Compensation Reviews

Performance Reviews

Because we want you to grow and to succeed in your job, the City conducts a formal review one (1) time per year for each employee. New employees may be reviewed near the end of their Orientation Period. A review may also be conducted in the event of a promotion or a change in duties and responsibilities. Refer to a copy of the new evaluation System.

During a formal performance review the Mayor may cover the following areas:

1. Performance History
2. Specific Comments
3. Areas for Improvement
4. Employees Comments
5. To be conducted once per year

Additional areas may also be reviewed as they relate to your specific job. Your review provides a golden opportunity for collaborative, two-way communication between you and your supervisor. This is a good time to discuss your interests and future goals. Your supervisor is interested in helping you to progress and grow in order to achieve personal as well as work-related goals. Perhaps he/she can recommend further training or additional opportunities for you. The job performance review gives an opportunity to suggest ways for you to advance and make your job at the City more fulfilling.

Compensation Reviews

The City's compensation reviews are given annually with performance reviews. Any applicable compensation increase will appear in the pay period ending after the date granted. Compensation increases may be retroactive in the case of late review. Having your compensation reviewed does not necessarily mean that you will be given an increase due to individual performance.

An individual's pay will depend on how consistently he/she performs over a given period of time. During that review, significant performance events that occurred throughout the year will be discussed. The overall performance rating will influence the compensation adjustment.

In addition to individual job performance reviews, the City periodically conducts a review of job descriptions to insure that we are fully aware of any changes in the duties and responsibilities of each position and those changes are recognized and adequately compensated.

All employees are entitled to Workers' Compensation benefits. This coverage is automatic and immediate and protects you from on-the-job- injury. An on-the-job injury is defined as an accidental injury suffered in the course of your work, or an illness which is directly related to performing your assigned job duties. The job-injury insurance is paid for by the City, if you cannot work due to a job-related injury or illness. All injuries or illness arising out of the scope of your employment must be reported to your supervisor immediately. Prompt reporting is the key to prompt benefits. Benefits are automatic, but nothing can happen until your employer knows about the injury. Insure your right to benefits by reporting every injury, no matter how slight.

However, if you've been hospitalized or off work more than 14 days, payments will be made even for the first four days.

Employees returning to work will select appropriate medical referrals to treat work- related injuries or illnesses. The City will maintain safety and health practices consistent with the needs of our industry. If you are ever in doubt about how to safely perform a job, it is your responsibility to ask your supervisor for assistance. Any suspected unsafe conditions and all injuries that occur on the job must be reported immediately. Compliance with these safety rules is considered a condition of employment. Therefore, it is a requirement that each supervisor make the safety of employees an integral part of his/her regular management functions. It is the responsibility of each employee to accept and follow established safety regulations and procedures.

Reporting Safety Issue

All accident, injuries, potential safety hazards, safety suggestions and health and safety related issues must be reported immediately to your supervisor. If you or another employee is injured, you should contact outside emergency response agencies, if needed. If an injury does not require medical attention, a Supervisor and Employee Report of Accident Form must still be completed in case medical treatment is later needed and to insure that any existing safety hazards are corrected. The Employee's Claim for Workers' Compensation Act also requires that you report any workplace illness or injury, no matter how slight. If you fail to report an injury, you may jeopardize your right to collect workers' compensation payments as well as health benefits. The only exception to this is if the domestic partner is also considered to be the employee's dependent for tax purposes under Section 152 of the IRS Code. The IRS defines a dependent as an individual who not only shares the principal residence of the employee and is considered a member of the household, but also depends on the employee to contribute more than 50 percent towards his/her support.

We urge employees using this plan to review the tax as well as legal consequences of this benefit with their tax and legal advisors.

Health Risks of Alcohol and Other Drug Use

Even though specific physical and mental responses to alcohol and drug use differ, the consequences for using either are usually similar. Negative health reactions can result from both abusive and moderate use of any substance. While on-going health problems are often associated with long-term misuse and abuse, acute and traumatic instances can occur from one-time or moderate use.

Alcohol

Ten (10) percent of adults can be classified as heavy drinkers. That is, they consume an average of two or more drinks per day. Virtually all body systems are affected by the long-term abuse of alcohol. Heavy constant consumption may result in hangovers and serious health consequences. Another sixty (60) percent of the population is moderate drinkers. The most common negative health consequences from occasional drinking are trauma related and involve both the drinker and non-drinker victims. The consumption of alcohol is involved in 200,000 deaths in this country per year, ten (10) percent of the U.S. annual mortality. Half of all traffic deaths are alcohol related and driving under the influence is the number one killer of American teenagers.

As stated in this Employee Manual before, there will be no alcohol products in any City building, City vehicle, or on any City premise. If alcohol is found in any of the mentioned places, it will be grounds for disciplinary action or immediate dismissal. Such prescription medications as Nembutal, Seconal, Quaalude, Miltown and Equanil have serious negative health consequences when abused. The most common is toxic overdose which results in depressed central nervous systems, cardiac and respiratory functioning.

Stimulants

Abusers of stimulant drugs are more likely to experience drug-induced psychiatric disturbances than are other abusers. Differences in health-related responses to stimulant drugs are dependent on the mode of ingestion. Nasal and intravenous use creates more acute responses than does oral use.

Marijuana

Chronic long-term use affects most body systems resulting in bronchitis and other respiratory difficulties, decreased strength of heart contractions, possible negative consequences on the immune system, acute memory impairment, and possible reduction on growth-hormone production. Episodic use of marijuana can result in panic reactions including feelings of anxiety, fears of losing control or going crazy, or fears of physical illness.

Hallucinogens

The most common health-related responses to hallucinogen use include panic reaction, flashbacks, and toxic reactions with ingestion of high levels of some compounds.

Legal Implications of Alcohol and Other Drug Use
